PATTERSON VETERINARY ANNOUNCES STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIP WITH VOYCE™

Remote monitoring technology supports veterinarians in managing client compliance and treatment efficacy

November 5, 2015 (DEVENS, Mass.) – Patterson Veterinary announced this morning that it will now represent Voyce Pro™, a remote monitoring service for canine patients that enables veterinary professionals to monitor key vital signs including resting heart rate, resting respiratory rate, activity, intensity of activity and quality of rest. Patterson Veterinary is a key operational business unit of Patterson Companies, Inc. (Nasdaq: PDCO) and i4C Innovations (dba Voyce) is a subsidiary of Intersections Inc. (Nasdaq: INTX), the creators of the Voyce Health Monitor™ and Voyce Pro Wellness Monitoring Program™.

George Henriques, chief commercial officer of Patterson Veterinary, commented, “We are excited that the veterinarians we serve will now be able to offer Voyce Pro, a state-of-the-art remote monitoring technology, as we work toward our core mission of providing the highest quality products and services to our veterinary customers. Voyce Pro will provide a new level of support to veterinarians in managing client compliance and treatment efficacy. We are confident that this agreement will further the goals of both companies to provide comprehensive resources to the veterinary community in support of animal welfare.”

Patterson recently executed the new partnership contract and will commence representing the Voyce Pro Wellness Monitoring Program immediately. This agreement creates new opportunities to broaden use of remote monitoring by any type of veterinary practice, whether it is a single doctor, multi-doctor or specialty practice. Voyce Pro is particularly useful in monitoring treatment efficacy and client compliance in cases such as osteoarthritis, pain, heart disease, obesity and post-operative recovery.

“We are excited to partner with Patterson, a trusted leader in the veterinary industry,” said Michael Stanfield, chairman and chief executive officer of Voyce, “and we look forward to providing veterinary hospitals advanced technology that will help to deliver excellent patient outcomes. The veterinary world has shown strong interest in the objective and actionable data that Voyce Pro offers, which has never before been available. Both companies have shown a commitment to expanding technology in the veterinary world and this partnership illustrates that continued commitment.”
